There Were 119 Other Counties in the State.

The election in this county passed off quietly and without any trouble. Both sides worked to get out a full vote and the fine weather helped to bring it out. In precinct No. 2 the polls closed with a number of voters waiting to vote, as the Republican clerk could not record the votes fast enough to poll the heavy vote.

Morrow's big majority of 2038 in 1915 was cut to 1148 this time. The vote by precincts in the governor's race is shown below. The other races varied but little, except that L. E. Easter, the local candidate for superintendent of public instruction ran ahead of the Democratic ticket.

LOWER HOUSE STILL IN DOUBT

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 5.—Edwin P. Morrow, Republican, was elected Governor of Kentucky over James D. Black, Democrat, by a majority estimated from 15,000 to 20,000.

Haynes Carter, personal manager for Gov. Black, in a statement conceded Black's defeat by from 8,000 to 10,000.

Unofficial returns from Eastern Kentucky, where it was expected that the Democratic nominee would cut Republican majorities, showed Morrow holding his own and in some cases exceeding figures in the gubernatorial election two years ago.

In the Western end of the State there was a considerable falling off of Democratic normal majorities, while in Jefferson county, which includes Louisville, the Republican candidate not only overturned a majority of 4,063 for Stanley, Democrat, two years ago, but turned it into a Republican victory by approximately 9,000.

Morrow will not have the State Legislature with him. Returns indicate beyond a doubt that the State Senate will be Democratic but it seemed certain that the House will be Republican.

Unofficial figures from Eastern Kentucky, Gov. Black's home, show that Morrow held his own there and, indeed, in some places exceeded the normal Republican vote. In the plurality was in evidence, but fell off considerably.

The Republicans and Mr. Morrow especially promised to clean house at Frankfort.

The league of nations was made a strong issue by the Democrats. Gov. Black said his defeat would mean repudiation of the league and of the peace treaty and of President Wilson.

Morrow declared the league was not a State issue.
Figures on the two constitutional amendments were belated, but seemed to indicate that the state-wide prohibition amendment had carried by a large majority. Tabulators had few figures on the amendment which would remove officers who failed to protect prisoners from mobs.

Ohio Goes Dry.
New York, Nov. 5.—Ohio and Kentucky, the only two States holding elections yesterday in which prohibition was a direct issue, both enrolled themselves in the army of voluntary abstinence, on the face of partial returns tabulated at mid-night.

With more than half of the State reported, Secretary of State Smith predicted it would be found Ohio had voted "dry" on all four prohibitional proposals submitted to the voters and that the majority would approximate 75,000. One of these proposals was offered in the form of a referendum on the legislature's action in ratifying the eighteenth amendment of the Federal Constitution.

dealt with the prohibition enforcement act adopted by the State legislature. The other two proposals were constitutional amendments touching on prohibition.

In Kentucky it appeared that the state-wide prohibition act had been carried by a large majority.

In New Jersey, which was one of the five states holding gubernatorial elections, prohibition was an indirect issue. Despite the assertion of State Comptroller Newton A. K. Bugbee Republican candidate for governor, that prohibition was an accepted fact because it is incorporated in the federal constitution, Senator Edward L. Edwards, the Democratic candidate, made it an issue by declaring that he will use all the legal machinery of the State to make New Jersey "as wet as the Atlantic ocean."

Kentucky and Massachusetts elected Republican governors today, while Maryland and Mississippi voted Democratic, early returns tonight indicated.

New Jersey results give hope the Democratic candidate is elected.

In Chicago early returns indicated that the three public policy questions in the constitutional convention ballot had generally carried by about 2 to 1. These questions were designed to instruct convention delegates and were termed the initiative and referendum, the gateway amendment and public ownership.

In Ohio the constitutional amendment providing for the classification of property for taxation was defeated.

Wets claimed to have carried Cleveland by from 23,000 to 43,000, and in Cincinnati the wets claim majorities of 51,000 to 56,000.

In Massachusetts.

Boston, Nov. 5.—Gov. Calvin Coolidge, Republican, was re-elected by an overwhelming plurality today over Richard H. Long, Democrat. Last year, when Long also was his opponent, he won by a plurality of 17,035. The vote today swept him into office again by a margin which had reached more than 85,000 at 11 o'clock tonight, with two-thirds of the returns counted.

The law and order slogan of Governor Coolidge, based upon his stand against the striking Boston policemen, brought out a heavy reserve Republican vote. The Democrats also worked hard to bring the voters to the polls with the result that the total vote was one of the heaviest ever cast in the State.

In New Jersey.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 5.—Edward L. Edwards was leading Newton A. K. Bugbee, his Republican opponent, in the race for governor by a margin of 127 votes at 2 o'clock this morning. With returns received from 104 districts out of 2011, the vote was: Edwards 180,716; Bugbee

Also Expect Protracted Strike—
Gompers Urges Withdrawal
Of Injunction.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Despite the spirit of hopefulness in official quarters that the end of the coal strike was near, spokesmen here for the miners and operators declared last night the country was in for a protracted industrial struggle in the bituminous fields.

Withdrawal of the injunction obtained by the government, will open the way for settlement of the coal strike, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor declared in a statement tonight.

Charging that the injunction was a grave wrong and gross blunder, Mr. Gompers said that if it were vacated and miners and operators invited to further conferences by the department of labor, he had "an abiding faith that a mutually honorable adjustment could be negotiated and effected whereby the coal strike can be brought to an end."

Labor leaders, a bit more specific than operators, estimated that all union mines would remain closed at least four weeks.

"The issue will be submitted to the court at Indianapolis next Saturday, calmly and dispassionately and if the court adjudges that the strike is illegal, I apprehend that the miners, as law abiding citizens, will discontinue it."

Officers of the conciliation department of labor said no offers had been received from either side to attempt settlement of the strike thru mediation.

No attempt has been made to conceal the fact that train service may be materially reduced unless the strike is brought to a speedy close. Just now the big job is to keep coal moving and prevent congestion. The question of curtailment of service will be decided by regional directors.

A Dispatch from Berlin says that the number of unemployed in Germany has been reduced from 1-500,000 six months ago to 500,000
now. Strikes are becoming infrequent and the reopening of foreign markets is causing a re-awakening of trade. The war has ended except in the Senate at Washington.

An adjoining county to Christian is said to be in the midst of a sensation, with alleged criminal features, involving one of the most prominent men in one section of the county. This paragraph notes a fact, but it is not a news item because it lacks five ingredients—
What, Where, When, Who and Why

Alice Luff, girl wife of Floyd Luff
of Princeton, Ind., who left her husband last week and returned to her Iowa home after the court had decided against her parents who had followed her there and were forcing her to return home. She arrived Monday and was greeted joyfully by her husband. The parents it is understood, have abandoned their efforts to separate the couple.

At Shawneetown, Ill., one day last week four eloping couples from Webster county were married under one ceremony. The contracting parties were: Rufus R. Branson, aged 25, and Miss Myrtle Overby, aged 21; Clyde Branson, age 23, and Miss Delphia Edwards, 21; O'Keefe
Polley, 22, and Miss Lillian Edwards

wards were sisters and supposed to be twins.

Persons who have formed the conclusion from recent developments
that the country is in for an early
"wet" spell, which will continue until it goes permanently dry on Jan 16 next under the provisions of the national constitutional amendment may find themselves mistaken. The latest reliable indications are that the war-time prohibition ban is far from lifted and that the time is not now in sight when the country will go "wet" again, if indeed it ever does.

President Carranza of Mexico has reiterated emphatically that he would not be a third term candidate, asserting that he preferred to turn the office over to a man elected by popular vote and to return to private life. He said that he deemed the bill recently introduced in the senate granting amnesty to all former enemies of the government, who are now supporting it in good faith, to be unwise at the present time. He thought however, that such leniency might be extended after the elections.

THE MYSTERY LADY

By JACK LAWTON.

The residents of the pretty village were excited over her coming. It was seldom that anything out of the ordinary happened and there was much interesting speculation as to her purpose in staying among them. It was not as though the arrival had been there before, or had friends in the vicinity. Neither had she seen the Pryor place, it was positively known, until the day when she alighted from an afternoon train and walked idly
down the main street.

The old vacated house attracted her in passing, for she had paused before its broken gate and then walked briskly inside. Miss Peters watching, then saw the lady go over to the hotel
where she had been known to ask questions concerning the owner of the house. Finding that he had long deserted the place for the city she sought out his agent in a grocery store
and rented the desolate residence.

The new tenant was pretty. Miss Peters admitted, "in an extreme citified sort of way." Certain it proved that the young woman was "extremely pretty." Also, she possessed a pleasing manner which charmed the storekeepers to whom she went for supplies and information.

"I will need a woman to help me at once," she said. "Could you suggest some person in your locality?"

The grocer was glad to suggest Ann Trimble, and promptly Ann came.

It was a case of mutual admiration from the first. Ann stood in awe before her lovely, modish young mistress
—while Judith Gay smiled into the wrinkled face of the gaunt old woman.

"You are exactly the one I shall need," she said graciously, "to look after me—generally."

The taking of the house was an impulse, Judith Gay explained. The beautiful country had fascinated her so that she wished to remain to enjoy the fancy while it lasted.

"I have decided to furnish only three rooms," she confided to the formidable Miss Peters. Ann will buy for me what is needed here in town." And Ann did; that was the mystery part of it.

When a beautiful woman arrives in an isolated country village with merely a suitcase for baggage, and furnishes immediately part of a tumbledown house for occupancy, there is surely something unusual in the proceeding. "Sunnyville" discussing its new neighbor, in vine-screened porches, ran the gamut of possibilities.

She might be a female detective on duty, or an actual murderess in hiding.
Whatever her secret, the young woman appeared to enjoy herself mightily. She could be heard singing about the tangled garden mornings, or chatting amiably with Ann Trimble
on a side veranda at twilight.

Ann bought many delicacies at the grocery and Judith Gay visited the austere dressmaker for the purpose of having frocks made of dimity.

The stranger looked more charming,
if that could be possible, in her new simple frocks, than she had in the modish gown.

"You're like a bit of a girl," Ann
said adoringly.

"She's an actress, that what she is,"
the dressmaker dryly remarked.

Sunnyville's two unattached men—a wife-hunting widower and a wife-shy bachelor, braved the mockery of the town to call upon the mysterious lady.

The widower departed discouraged while the sought-after bachelor was decidedly peeved.

"She can keep to herself if she is set on doing it as she says," he announced. "I for one won't bother her."

But thereafter, though he formed a habit of passing many times the old Pryor house, its mistress continued
joyously bent upon her own society.

It was when the distinguished appearing man began his visits, that the entire town drew within itself in shocked surprise. This fine looking stranger was wont to arrive on an early morning train from the city to spend the day with Judith Gay in her garden. Miss Peters heard the girl give a startled cry at his first coming,
then she had actually seen the man catch the mystery lady close in an embrace. It was scandalous that townspeople must witness such goings on.

She hinted caustically at the occurrence when Judith crossed to the hedge.

"You're going to marry him of course," said Miss Peters.

"Oh! No I'm not," laughed the girl.
Then unexpectedly Sunnyville was devoid of its one interest. The Mystery Lady had disappeared.

"Left town on the night train with that city fellow," the station agent said.

Miss Peters indignantly sought out Ann Trimble, who was closing up the house doors.

"She'll not come back here," said
Miss Peters.

"She will," Ann replied, "she's gone into the city with her husband to arrange for fixin' this old place up.

Seems like she wanted to spend the summer in the country. An' her husband joked her about it that she wouldn't dare to. So she came on here herself to show him. She's had him address her letters to me, so there'd be no mistake about getting 'em." Ann snapped the door shut. "Reckon this is going to be a pretty fine place," she said proudly, "an' reckon I know some folks who won't be invited to call."

Winona, Minn.—"I suffered for more

and in the morning

Olmstead St., Winona, Minn.

How often do we hear the expression
among women, "I am so nervous, I cannot sleep," or "it seems as though I should fly." Such women should profit by Mrs. Sultze's experience and give this famous root and herb remedy,
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Com-

For forty years it has been overcoming such serious conditions as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, dizziness, and nervous prostration of women, and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.

The heart of your home life is in the heating. Make sure of that comfort and happiness follows.

Caloric Quality is Your Protection

Over 50,000 homes in the United States heartily endorse Caloric quality. The owners know the merits of the Original Patented Pipeless Furnace. They have daily proof that it correctly applies Nature's own law of circulated heat, that it saves 35% of the fuel and that its Ironclad Guarantee of comfort and economy is always made good by its performance.

Caloric success is due to its principles of construction. The Caloric is especially designed for pipeless heating—the original. It is not a pipe furnace with a casing, nor is it a makeshift adapted to meet a new demand. The best efforts of scientifically trained engineers resulted years ago in this new type furnace, which has been refined and improved until it embodies those principles necessary to your satisfaction not found in imitations, because they are fully protected by patents. There is as much difference in pipeless furnaces as in horses—you can buy quality or you can get cheapness, which costs more in the long run.

Let Us Show You

the Caloric and explain its exclusive features. Then you will never be satisfied with any other and will know that it represents the most for the money. You will not make the mistake of a poor investment when you understand why the Caloric is so superior, why it stands alone in leadership in this field and why imitations cannot produce its satisfaction to users.

The Caloric can be installed quickly in old and new houses. It burns coal, coke, wood or gas. Clean, fire-proof, well made and fully guaranteed.

Come in and get the free book "Progress," which tells all the facts about pipeless heating. Study the question and let us show you how easily the furnace can be put into your house.

ZAPATA'S LAST FORCES TAKEN

Federal Troops Starve Army of 1,000 Men Into Submission Silver Mine.

Galveston, Tex., Nov. 3.—Holding a position that was impregnable against assault, but forced into submission through lack of water and provisions, the last remaining forces of Emilio Zapata's army surrendered yesterday to Mexican federal forces under Gen. Cosío Rovelo, according to official advices received here today from the Mexican Consul Meade Fierro.

For fifteen days the Zapata force, estimated at between 900 and 1,000 men, had been surrounded in their hiding place, the old Spanish silver mine of "Hualar" in Morelos, according to Const. Fierro's report. Gen. Rovelo, however, did not attack but invested the mine with a cordon which effectually cut off retreat.

Yesterday, according to the word received by Mexican Consul Gen. Palafox, former secretary to Zapata, the principal leaders of the Zapatista and Alvarado Gonzales, Zapata's titular successor, together with the entire force of rebels, surrendered.

TURNING THE RAILROADS

Washington, D. C.—Forecasts on the probable legislation to be passed by Congress to provide for the turning back of the railroads now indicate that the Republican majority will try to get the required bill through by the end of the year. At best it can be but last minute legislation, and those informed on the problems the next Congress will have to face predict it will not pass until after the roads have actually been handed back. The greatest embarrassment this causes to the country is that it continues the eleventh hour activities that have stamped this Congress, where they have acted at all, and tends to increase industrial uncertainty.

Under instructions from the high command of the Republican party the subcommittees in charge of both the Cummins Senate bill and the Each House bill have been working at full speed during the past few days. The orders from above were not forthcoming until the railroad administration forced the committees into a corner with the recent communication from Director Hines warning them that unless action was taken the committees would be put before the public in the light of having failed to function on one of the country's most important problems.

As the plans now read there will be an effort to get the bill before this Congress by the middle of November. If the bill does go before this Congress it will be just before the country nearly a month and be used as a feeler on public sentiment.

The Republican leaders will probably insist on an adjournment period long enough to allow them to collect their mileage, even if they do not have much time to spend on their political preserves at home. The next regular session of Congress will begin the first week in December. Besides the railroad legislation it will have before it definitely at that time legislation for the benefit of the soldiers. The soldier legislation may be postponed, on account of the importance of the rails legislation. Aside from that there will be dozens of important measures, neglected during the dilatory and procrastinating special session, and will press even more urgently at that time for action. It is a practical certainty that whatever legislation is brought up affecting the railroads it will have much opposition on both sides of Congress and the bill as it finally passes will be no better than a makeshift that will require changing later on.

END OF DOCK STRIKE APPARENTLY NEAR

Men Are Expected To Return To Their Work Wednesday And Ships Sail.

New York, Nov. 3.—A perceptible easing in the tie-up of shipping occasioned by the longshoremen's strike was noted today. At the Chelsea piers, the docking place of many of the large trans-Atlantic liners, there was a greatly increased number of men at work, shipping board officials said.

"It appears that the backbone of the strike is broken," one of the officials stated, "and we have reason to believe that by Wednesday of this week work on practically every dock in New York harbor will be normal."

BESSIE TIFT COLLEGE HAS UNUSUAL RECORD

Bessie Tift College, a Baptist institution for young women at Forsythe, Ga., produced 248 volunteers for active Christian service in any part of the world they may be needed at the special enlistment service last week. Another unusual record reported by that institution consists in the fact that for the last ten years only one graduate who was not a Christian, has gone out from its halls, while during the past five years only three members of the student body were not church members by the end of the school year.

BURY DR. BROWN BESIDE FATHER AT HENDERSON

Henderson, Ky., Nov. 3.—Funeral services of Dr. John Young Brown who died last Thursday at Phoenix Ariz., were held here this afternoon at the residence of David Clark, by the Rev. Fathers O'Fallon and Spencer, of St. Louis, assisted by the Rev. Father Lynch, of this city. Pallbearers were friends from St. Louis. Burial was beside the grave of his father, former Governor Brown.

$41,000 For Co-operating.

Kentucky farmers this year sold 320,000 pounds of wool thru farmers pools. Such pools were organized in twenty counties. These farmers received 12½¢ a pound more for their wool than they would have received had they marketed individually. In other words, they were paid $41,500 for organizing these little associations to sell their wool. That is how co-operative marketing pays. Yet some farmers still say that "there's nothing to it," or that "farmers won't stick together." It is awfully hard for some folks to get a new idea or to give up an old one, even when the old one has been proven all wrong.—Southern Agriculturist.

An appeal, declared to be unpatriotic and intended to incite class hatred was distributed among union coal miners of Harlan county in an effort to gain votes for Edwin P. Morrow, Republican candidate for Governor late in the year and the same methods no doubt were followed among all of the strikers. Morrow on Monday denied responsibility, but the work had been done.

Unexpected Information. A clergyman lost his horse on a Saturday evening. After hunting with a boy until after midnight he gave up in despair. The next day, somewhat dejected at his loss, he went into the pulpit and took for his text the following passage from Job: "Oh, that I knew where I might find him." The boy, supposing the horse was still the burden of thought, cried out: "I know where he is. He's in Deacon Smith's barn!"

Javelle Water.

This water is fine for removing stains. Take one pound of sal soda and five cents' worth of chloride of lime. Put them in an earthen bowl, add two quarts of water and stir. Let it settle, then pour off the water and bottle it. It will remove fruit stains and even indelible ink. Soak till stain disappears; then quickly wash in warm water.

BAPTIST WOMEN TO RAISE $15,000,000

FIFTH OF SUM SOUGHT IN FIVE
YEAR PROGRAM WILL COME FROM THEM.

ARE DOING A LARGE WORK

Hospitals, Mountain Schools, Good
Will Centers and Church Building Funds Maintained by Them in Addition to Regular Gifts.

MISS KATHLEEN MALLORY
Corresponding Secretary, W. M. U.
Baltimore.

Evidencing the larger sphere which women have come to occupy in church life, as well as other activities, when the Baptist 75 Million Campaign was decided upon at the meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention in Atlanta last May, the women, through their regular organization, the Woman's Missionary Union, at once agreed to be responsible for one-fifth of the sum sought, or $15,000,000. This means that the Baptist women of the South will raise for missions of all kinds, Christian education and benevolences, the sum of $3,000,000 a year for the next five years, in addition to their contributions to local enterprises and special work.

Through the channels of the Woman's Missionary Union, with headquarters at Baltimore, Md., the Baptist women of the South have since their organization contributed more than $5,000,000 in cash to various denominational purposes. With the addition of boxes of food and clothing sent to orphanages and other benevolent institutions, the total of their contributions through this channel has reached $5,713,423.71.

Miss Kathleen Mallory is the corresponding secretary of the Woman's Missionary Union, and in appreciation of the service she has rendered in that connection the Baptist women of Alabama have established the Kathleen Mallory Hospital for Women at Laichow-Fu, Shantung, China, Miss Mallory being a native of Alabama.

Women of many of the other states have also undertaken special enterprises of their own. Those of Georgia, for instance, established the Ayers Hospital for Women at Hwaghien, China, a girls' school at Kumamoto, Japan, the Catherine Bryan Kindergarten School at Canton, China, and the Mary P. Willingham School for Girls at Blue Ridge, Ga., a school designed especially for the education of girls in the mountainous section of that state.

Many of the other state unions have special projects such as Good Will Centers in the tenement, factory and mining districts, where effort is made to bring more sunshine and enlightenment and love into the homes and lives of needy families, especially those of foreign birth; church building funds, scholarships for young women who want to obtain training for special Christian service, and similar undertakings.

The general W. M. U., representing all the women of the Southern Baptist Convention owns, and operates the Women's Training School at Louisville, Ky., which has already sent out 700 trained women for special service in all parts of the world; and has established the Margaret Fund for the education in the Baptist schools of the South the sons and daughters of missionaries on the foreign fields, and the Fannie E. S. Heck Memorial, a church building fund established in honor of one of the greatest leaders Southern Baptist women has known.

But money for the support of these institutions as well as that for the payment of the women's pledge of $15,000,000 in the 75 Million Campaign, will be raised by the actual work of the women and through economy and sacrifice. Church fairs, bazaars, suppers, ice cream socials and the like, are frowned upon by the organized Baptist women of the South as unworthy means for raising funds for carrying forward the work of the kingdom of God and their contributions will not come from this source, it is emphasized.

YANK JAZZ SETS NEW MISSION ROTTERDAM CRAZY HOUSE PLANNED

Dutch Town Responds Excitedly
to American Novelties.

EVEN POLICE ARE INFECTED

Cabaret Entertainers Sing Ragtime Stuff, but When Doughboys Join in the People Go Wild With Excitement—Old Ones Like "Alexander's Ragtime Band" and "Everybody's Doing It" Are the Popular Favorites.

Rotterdam is cabaret, "jazz" and "rag" crazy—and the American soldiers working at the new American base port at Rotterdam are rejoicing.

To us Americans it is like a hark back to old days to walk into one of the cabarets in Rotterdam and hear the local Al Jolson and Raymond Hitchcocks shouting out the familiar strains of "Everybody's Doing It," "Alexander's Ragtime Band," "That Mysterious Rag," "Fiddle U" and even in some places "Arrah Wanna" and "Cheyenne," says Corp. David Ramseur in Chicago Post.

Some of the entertainers sing in English, some in Dutch, but all sing them, sing all the old, old favorites. But somehow the Dutch singers lack the "kick" and "punch." And the Rotterdam habitués are quick to appreciate the difference between their singing and the singing of the Americans.

Helped Sing "Ragtime Band."

One evening a party of us entered the Hell cabaret just as one of the most popular of Rotterdam entertainers was singing "Alexander's Ragtime Band" in Dutch. When he reached the chorus we all joined in, singing with all our might. When we finished half the people in the place were standing on their feet and all of them were cheering and clapping. So we sang again, and then at the request of the orchestra leader we sang a number of fairly new songs. Our success was nearly a riot and when we sang "The Darktown Strutters' Ball" I thought the tables would be wrecked.

When we finished two men came over to our table and introduced themselves. One was Peter Davids, who seems to be the Flo Ziegfeld of Rotterdam, and the other a newspaper man. Both talked good English, and they were fairly bubbling with excitement. They fairly begged us to get up an American soldiers' quartette and go on in one of the cabarets.

"Everybody's Doing It" Popular.

I went downtown with three fellows, one of whom had a banjo and one a guitar. We staged several impromptu concerts in various cafes and cabarets, and when at 12 o'clock everything closed up we started home. An eager crowd of Hollanders followed us and begged for just one more piece.

We were rather afraid of getting in wrong with the local police, but finally we began one they all knew—"Everybody's Doing It." We had just started on the chorus when up came two of those tall, stern-looking policemen, their long swords banging against their sides. I nudged the banjo player, but as I did so I saw that both of those dignified guardians of the peace were singing, and so we kept on, and the men we feared sang, too. So we found out that the "jazz" craze has even hit the police force.

Dancing is permitted in most cabarets and there are, besides, a number of dance halls where every night the young men and women of Rotterdam try the steps of American "rag." The Dutch are wont to be dignified in their dancing and the spectacle of a couple trying to "rag" in the stilted manner that one associates with the dancing of the mid-Victorian age is amusing.

MYSTERY IS CLEARED

Knife Used by Suicide 30 Years Ago
Is Found.

A thirty-year mystery was cleared up recently at the Hancock county (O.) infirmary when George Bailey found a butcher knife between two studdings in one of the walls of the abandoned buildings which is being torn down by order of the county commissioners.

Thirty years ago an inmate of the institution cut his throat from ear to ear. No knife or sharp instrument was ever found with which the deed might have been committed.

According to the theory advanced after the discovery of the knife by Bailey, the suicide placed the knife on top of a beam and it fell between the studdings, where it remained for thirty years. The knife still retains its razor edge and is only slightly corroded.

United States Short 1,000,000 Homes.

Will Be Utilized As Community Centers, Drive Begins.

New mission houses to be used as community centers in lumber, mill and coal districts of Henderson and Hickman, Ky., are planned by the Episcopal diocese of Kentucky as a result of the church's nation-wide campaign.

Several thousand dollars has been asked for extension of social service and mission work in Louisville, including a parish house at St. Mark's equipped with a gymnasium and day nursery.

A new church building for the church of the Epiphany, which is now conducting services in a store building.

Building projects are suggested for Anchorage, Fulton, Hopkinsville, Mayfield, Pewee Valley and Lyndon, where parish houses and in some cases rectories are needed.

Orphanages and homes for the aged in the diocese will receive funds from the nation-wide campaign for additions, remodeling and new equipment.

Salaries of all clergy and missionaries of the Episcopal church are to be raised to a minimum of $1,500, it is expected, as a result of the campaign.

G. H. Stansbury, Louisville, chairman of the Diocesan campaign committee, expressed his appreciation of the enthusiasm with which the nation-wide campaign is being pushed in this State.

Expansion of all phases of church activity is embodied in the new program based upon the campaign.

'ARMISTICE DAY'

Next Tuesday, November 11th, has been set aside as Armistice Day. Gov. Black has issued an official proclamation asking all patriotic citizens to observe the day as a holiday. Mayor Bassett has issued a proclamation to the citizens of Hopkinsville asking that they set aside this day as a holiday and close their places of business on that day.

The Christian county chapter of the American Legion and the Red Cross have joined together to celebrate Armistice Day. In the afternoon at 2:30 at the Tabernacle, there will be a regular patriotic celebration with the chief theme "One Hundred Per Cent Americanism." Several ex-service men from the Legion will deliver 5-minute speeches, and there will be representatives of the Red Cross to make talks. Mrs. W. T. Fowler, County Historian, will give statistics of the war work of Christian county and of the service of the county's brave soldiers.

There will be patriotic music by Lebkuecher's Band, it is hoped.

In fact, it is hoped to make this day one of the biggest affairs of its kind in the history of the city.

Mayor Bassett's proclamation is given below:

WHEREAS, The Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky has by official executive proclamation asked all patriotic citizens to observe next Tuesday, November 11th, 1919, as a holiday and to cease work and close their places of business in commemoration of "Armistice Day," and

WHEREAS, "Armistice Day" is the anniversary of that day when our Armed Forces, together with those of Our Allies, emerged victorious from the death, bloodshed and hardship of the World War, by virtue of the unconditional surrender of Germany, NOW THEREFORE, I, Frank H. Bassett, Mayor of Hopkinsville, have proclaimed and do hereby proclaim next Tuesday, November 11th, 1919, a holiday and call on my fellow citizens to observe it as such by closing their places of business and ceasing work so that themselves and their employees may have proper opportunity to enjoy the day and pay tribute to the memory of those who sacrificed their lives in the cause of Freedom.

This November 4th, 1919, in Hopkinsville, Ky.

"A SPLENDID TONIC"

Says Hixson Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tenn.—"About 10 years ago I was..." says Mrs. J. B. Gadd, of this place. "I suffered with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night with this pain, always in the left side..."

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still there.

I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition, so I decided to try some more Cardui, which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better, in fact, cured me. It has been a number of years, still I have no return of this trouble.

I feel it was Cardui that cured me, and I recommend it as a splendid female tonic.

Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has so many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, sideache, nervousness, sleeplessness, tired-out feeling, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists.

SOUTH CAROLINA WILL GREATLY EXCEED QUOTA

South Carolina, given an opportunity of $5,500,000 in the Baptist 75 Million Campaign, will greatly exceed that quota, and will probably go beyond $7,000,000, in the opinion of T. J. Watts, publicity director for that state, who says scores of churches were dissatisfied with the small tasks assigned them, and will do much more.

While road-working, Smith Winstead, of Dixon, was seriously injured by the explosion of a stick of dynamite.

BELIEVE STRIKE IS NEAR END

DEFLECTIONS IN RANKS OF COAL MINERS ENCOURAGE NATIONAL OFFICIALS

MANY MEN WANT TO RETURN

First Break Comes in West Virginia and Colorado—Non-Union Mines Busy.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 3.—Official Washington was grim in the belief the strike was near.

There was nothing definite or tangible in the way of actual developments to justify this hopeful view of the situation, but everywhere the feeling prevailed that influences were being brought to bear to have the strikers, numbering more than 400,000, return to work.

Confidential reports to the department of Justice from its agents in the coal fields were said to show many defections from the ranks of the strikers. Some of the reports said that a large number of idle miners had declared they wanted to return to work but were afraid.

In this connection officials reiterated that adequate protection would be given. There was no specific statement as to how this would be provided but it was explained that troops would be available at the call of any governor who believed it necessary to preserve order to protect workers.

First Breaks Shown:

Scattered reports from the fields reaching into 28 states, showed the first breaks in the ranks of organized labor in West Virginia and Colorado. Advises to Washington headquarters of the operators said that all non-union mines were working to full capacity and turning out considerable more coal than on Saturday. Some of the operators' reports said that the union men had gone to work in non-union mines and that there was a growing sentiment that the men themselves should have had the right to vote on the strike before it was ordered.

This information, to a certain extent, was in line with that received by the government, especially as to defections. Officials said the strikers realized public sentiment was against them and some labor leaders also were taking this view.

Attorney General Palmer, handling the main end of the government's case, went to Pennsylvania tonight, feeling it is said, that the crisis might be over before Saturday, the day on which the temporary injunction restraining officers of the miner's organization from activity is returnable. Asked what the government would do that day, an official said:

"We will not cross the bridge until we get to it."

NICKEL BY NICKEL

Newspaper Man Dribbled His Profit to Beggar.

Little Transaction by Which Scribe
Thought He Was to Make $2.65
Didn't End in Just That Desired Way.

"A newspaper friend of mine," said
Mr. Goslington, "tells me of an unusual experience he has had, in fact is still having with a beggar.

"He met this beggar first about a year ago. The circumstances attending this first meeting were novel and interesting and my friend wrote a little piece about it which was printed in his newspaper and for which he received $3. As he had given the beggar a nickel he figured that his net profit on this was $2.95. But:

"A couple of weeks later he again met this beggar, who again asked for a nickel, a request that my friend did not feel warranted in refusing. I don't think he would have refused anyway, my friend being an easy mark for beggars; but having profited by his original transaction with this beggar, he felt impelled to hand over this second nickel promptly, thus reducing his net on this little piece to $2.90.

"It wasn't long before my friend discovered that this beggar lived somewhere in his neighborhood and made that part of the town his quarry; for now he used to meet him here and there by intervals. Not always, by any means, when they met did the beggar approach him; commonly they passed each other as any other two might do, with no sign of recognition;
but once in a while the beggar would ask for a nickel, which always my friend gave. In this way in the course of three months he gave up 35 cents, thus reducing the net of that $3 to $2.65. Then my friend had an idea.

"He foresaw that if this went on indefinitely, as there seemed every indication it would do, the beggar would get all of the $3, which to my friend seemed scarcely reasonable. But he did think that an even division would be no more than right to the beggar, and so when the $3 got down to $2.65
he set aside, in his mind, $1.15 as a drawing account to the beggar's credit, and he said to himself that when thus
the original fund had been evenly divided he would stop giving and consider that he had done the square thing.

"Well, my friend tells me that, counting a nickel that the beggar drew yesterday, he has now drawn $1.40, so that now it is a question of a very few weeks only, three or four at the utmost, when the beggar will have drawn his full share.

"Then, my friend says, he is going to shut down and keep the rest himself; but what I think he will do will be to keep on paying till the whole three dollars is gone, his original profit being thus wiped out completely. I don't know what he can do then, unless he should write, covering all his experiences with this unusual beggar, another and longer story; moving then to another part of the city."

Transform Historic Westminster.
Prominent citizens of London are planning to rebuild the district around Westminster abbey as a memorial to those who distinguished themselves in the world war. The improvements include the construction of a great avenue, 120 feet wide, and a new Lambeth bridge. The design for the bridge will be chosen from plans submitted
by architects from all over the world.
Splendid buildings are projected for the University of London, for a Shakespearean theater, and for arts and science exhibits. The new avenue will contain groups of statues commemorating the heroic deeds of the British, Canadian, New Zealand and Australian forces, as well as those of Britain's allies. It is intended to make this the finest and most impressive monumental avenue in the British empire.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Chinese Railways Busy.
Latest reports indicate that the 3,000 miles of government railways carry annually more than 25,000,000 passengers a total of 1,000,000,000 miles.
Thirty-seven per cent of the receipts of the government railways come from the passenger service. On five of the lines the passenger revenues exceed those from transportation of goods.
Ninety-five per cent of the passenger traffic is third-class at an average fare of one cent a mile, which means a large amount of travel by the poorer classes.

Wide macadamized highways are being constructed in the suburbs of many cities. The coming of the automobile will hasten this development.
An automobile service across the Gobi
desert connecting Peking with Urga
and the Russian railway has been inaugurated.

English Lenses Superior.
When aero-photography commenced to play its great part in the war, it was found that the German-made lenses would do the work of picturing from above far better than British-made lenses. But the English opticians set to work, and in a short time they produced lenses that beat the German product fair and square. Captured aero-photographic apparatus during the latter part of the war showed that the lenses were inferior in quality to those made in Britain. No German-made lens has yet been found that would picture a barbed wire entanglement from a height of three miles. The British product would, and very often did.

The Democratic vote was one-third of that polled at the recent primary, in which nominations were made.

Not All There.

Delbrook was the proud possessor of a brand-new suit of clothes with a small wooden whistle attached to it. Soon after getting the suit, and while the family was dining away from home, his father asked him why he did not wear his new suit that evening. "I can't, daddy," he answered, "cause the whistle's broke."

Peach Tree Grown in Pot.

Recent importations of the United States bureau of plant industry include a pot-grown peach tree from Rev. George Campbell, a South China missionary. A tree only 15 inches tall ripened five good-sized edible clingstone peaches. The plant is said to come true to seed, and it is predicted that fruit growers will develop a remarkable new race of dwarf peaches.

SIX BARN ARE BURNED

Four of Them Are in the Neighborhood of Fairview.

Tuesday morning a barn on the McKee farm near town on the Nashville pike was burned and the crop of tobacco raised by Henry Stewart was destroyed. Mr. Charles R. Garland has been looking after the farm which is owned by Miss McKee. The barn was insured for $500, but the crop of 28 acres of tobacco was a total loss. The insurance was not good while tobacco was being fired.

A barn belonging to Will Rose near Fairview, was also burned Tuesday morning. It contained about 12,000 pounds of tobacco and there was no insurance.

John W. Petrie, of Fairview, lost a barn a few days ago. His loss was partially covered by insurance of $1,000 on the tobacco and $300 on the barn.

Will Lamb, of near Fairview, lost his barn Saturday night with his crop of tobacco. He had insurance for his tobacco and $300 on his barn. Robert Arnold was another farmer of the Fairview section who lost his big barn filled with tobacco. He had $2,000 insurance on the crop and $400 on the barn.

BAPTISTS WILL ERECT MANY ADDITIONAL HOSPITALS

As a result of the impetus given to the work of Christian healing by the Baptist 75 Million Campaign, a number of the new Baptist hospitals will be erected within the Southern states during the next year. Virginia will employ its hospital apportionment in the campaign in the erection of a hospital within her borders; North Carolina will raise 100,000 to use in stimulating local efforts in several of its large cities toward the founding of hospitals; Alabama will raise $102,000, and Arkansas $200,000 for new Baptist hospitals yet to be located. Kentucky is raising $250,000 for the erection of a hospital at Louisville while an additional Baptist hospital has been authorized at San Antonio making four for Texas.
